THE GLOVE CONTEST ACT.

California permits glove contests which are witnessed by judges and officials, members of the press and police officers as in the case of the Fitzsimmons-Sharkey contest of recent date. Editors who were present at that contest and published every detail of the fight in their papers now hold up their hands in holy horror at the idea that Nevada should license such contests. There are exceptions to this rule, however, among others the Sacramento Bee which has opinions of its own and is not afraid to express them, which is evidenced by the following which appears in its columns under the head of "good for Nevada."

"The Governor of Nevada in signing the bill licensing glove contests in that State, declared that he did not consider prize-fighting to be anywhere near as demoralizing and brutal as football."

"The Governor is right. And yet from all over the nation there comes a howl against Nevada, against Nevada's legislature, against Nevada's Governor, against Nevada's people—and all for what? We cannot find a single excuse therefor, except it be that Nevada has refused to be a hypocrite, and hypocrisy appears to be the prevailing fad of the day."

"There is absolutely nothing cruel, there is absolutely nothing demoralizing, there is absolutely nothing brutalizing in a well-contested glove contest. There is absolutely nothing connected with it, as a matter of strength, skill and science, that should debar any good woman from witnessing it, whose nerves can stand the unspeakable brutality of a football match, and the demoralizing effect such a contest cannot fail to have on the nature of that sex which is supposed to be tenderhearted."

"And yet ministers will sport from the pulpit and editors will write in the press, abusing glove contests and those who attend them, and the same ministers and editors will crowd to football matches and grow enthusiastic over struggles infinitely more brutal and dangerous to limb and to life than were the contests in the prize ring even with bare knuckles."

"There is something also about many of the editors of the State in connection with this matter, which is very peculiar and very amusing. They love to see a rattling glove contest, in which the men are about equally matched in strength, and are the acme and the perfection of skill and of science. They will privately own to their love of the sport. They will admit that it is neither brutal, demoralizing nor cruel, and yet these very same men will either write articles denouncing the good sport they enjoy, or will remain silently acquiescent while the columns of their papers are given over to its denunciation by ministerial organizations, sometimes even—God save the mark and the devil applaud the cheek—by youths whose length of hair testifies that they are slaves to the pernicious practice of football."

"Now, why is this? Why do men who have seen many a good glove contest and who know that it is not cruel, that it is not brutal, that it is not demoralizing, permit themselves to become mere echoes of men and women who have never seen one and who do not know what they are talking about? Could hypocrisy farther go, than when knowledge is afraid to open its lips and becomes but the blind echo of ignorance?"

"The Bee has never asked of others what they think or what they do not think. It has never condemned men who are opposed to all glove contests, for it believes that every man has a right to his own opinion. It does protest, however, against the blatant and the patent hypocrisy which will induce men to publicly denounce that which they privately approve, and to frown upon this action of Nevada when, if the truth were known, a majority of them are saving up money in order to see the promised Corbett-Fitzsimmons match."

"As to the Bee, it has no hesitation in saying that one of its force, probably two, will be at the fight. The trip to the ring will not be made any more from a sense of duty in the gathering of news than from personal interest and enjoyment on the part of the individual or individuals who will attend."

"The Bee greets Nevada with renewed assurances of its most distinguished consideration. Amid her sister States she shines out a sparkling jewel of consistency in an otherwise unbroken sisterhood of hypocrisy."

DEFICIENCY BILLS.

A flood of deficiency bills, aggregating many thousands of dollars, have been introduced in the Legislature. Many of these are for deficiencies in State institutions, such as the University, fish hatcheries, etc., while others are for the militia and State officers. Yesterday Governor Sadler called attention of the Ways and Means Committees of the two houses to a clause in the constitution which stopped further progress in this direction. This clause is embodied in Section 21, Article V, of the constitution, which provides that "no claim against the State (except salaries or compensations of officers fixed by law) shall be passed upon by the Legislature without having been considered and acted upon by the Board of Examiners."

While, as stated, bills appropriating thousand of dollars for deficiencies have been introduced, according to the report of State Controller LaGrave, the total deficiencies passed upon by the Board of Examiners and allowed in excess of appropriations are as follows:

Support of State Printing office.....	$448 30
Advertising and bookbinding.....	77 50
Supporting deaf, dumb and blind.....	579 40
Fish Commission.....	1,817 20
Ballot of Supreme Court.....	15 00
Per diem of Lieutenant Governor acting as Governor.....	216 00
Preparing Supreme Court reports.....	1,200 00
Attorney preparing Supreme Court reports.....	700 00
Transportation of militia—funeral Governor Jones.....	531 00
Total.....	$5,984 42

The other deficiencies have not been considered or passed upon by the Board of Examiners, in fact were never submitted to the Board by those who incurred the deficiencies by expending more than the appropriations, and consequently cannot be passed upon by the Legislature.

THE IMMIGRATION BILL.

Probably the Immigration bill which has just been recommended by the House after a brisk fight and on a close vote will meet with the approval of a majority of American citizens. The bill proposes that no immigrant who cannot read and write either the English or some other language shall be permitted to enter.

It is not the purpose of this measure to offend the foreigner or put an embargo on his coming to America. Americans who have studied the social conditions here and who look forward to the time when the American people, as a distinct nation, will be a sturdy stock, made up from the assimilation of many different peoples, want the immigrant; but they want him intelligent, industrious, sober and law-abiding. The illiterate class fails to meet these qualifications. It includes men, who, in their westward course across the country, lodge in the slums of the big cities, augmenting the ranks of the paupers and criminals. The underserved bad reputation of some foreign nationalities in this country is due to men of this sort.

The educational test is not only the best for building up the country, but the best for those persons who want immigration restricted on general principles. It will materially lessen the influx of foreigners, but the class of aliens barred out will be the undesirable class. The others will be as welcome to these hospitable shores as ever.

And yet, President Cleveland has expressed a firm determination to veto this measure, as it don't seem to jibe with his peculiar notions of Americanism.

Diphtheria Cure.

The testimony of a prominent physician:

FOUNTAIN CITY, Ind., June 17, 1895.

This certifies that I have been using V. O. in my practice. I have never found any medical preparation in 46 years of practice that is calculated to do so much good in so wide a range of diseases and leave no after bad effects.

In Diphtheria it has proved a perfect specific in my hands, and I had rather depend on it alone in that dreadful disease than the whole popular Materia Medica with that left out.

Equal Suffrage, Prizefight and Other Matters of Interest—Some Brilliant Speeches.

CARSON, February 2, 1897.

The Senate held an evening session last night for the consideration of the amendment to the constitution passed at last session, to strike out the word "males" wherever it occurs in article 2.

The Senate chamber was densely packed, many ladies being present. After the preliminaries had been concluded and the resolution read, Senator Comins of White Pine moved that the Senate resolve itself into Committee of the Whole and Mrs. J. R. Williamson be invited to address the committee.

Mrs. Williamson was then introduced and made a strong plea for the adoption of the resolution. At the conclusion of her address the committee arose and Senator Comins addressed the Senate championing the amendment. He made a strong speech advocating the measure and recommending its reference to the people for consideration. Senator Summerfield of Washoe made the speech of the evening. He paid a beautiful tribute to the ladies, placing them in many ways above man and in all things his equal, but denied that suffrage was a right as claimed by equal suffragists and proved by reading from learned political economists that it was simply a privilege that could be granted or taken away by law. He referred to the provision for age of voters, also the requirements of residence. He showed that a young man of twenty-one he was granted the privilege under the law. In concluding he gave a word picture of the soldiers on a battlefield the night before battle, how the heart of every soldier went out to a wife, sweetheart or mother far away and suddenly the strains of that old song "Annie Laurie" came from a single voice and was soon echoed and re-echoed by thousands. Many of those whose last thoughts and hopes were with dear ones far away fell on the field of battle the next day, but they fell with their hearts with the dear ones at home.

Mr. Summerfield was frequently applauded and it was quite apparent that the lobby and gallery, many of the occupants of which were ladies, were with him by the demonstrations of applause, even if the Senate was against him.

He was followed by Senator Denton, known here as the cyclone of Lincoln county, who made one of his characteristic speeches in favor of the ladies. The vote was then taken and the resolution adopted by the following vote:

Yeas—Comins, Denton, Ernst, Gregorich, Kaiser, Lord, Martin, Skaggs and McCone—9.

Nays—Leavitt, Mills, Summerfield of Humboldt, Summerfield of Washoe, and Wilson—5.

Senator Richards of Lander was absent and wrote a letter saying that had he been present he would have voted aye. The resolution was received and read in the Assembly to-day and referred to the judiciary committee.

Senator Mills offered a surprise in the Senate to-day by introducing a bill amending Assembly Bill No. 8, known as the glove contest bill. The bill amends section 6, so as to prohibit a gate charge or admission to the fight in excess of $1. Whether the bill will meet with favor or not is doubtful, but it has caused considerable comment. It is believed that there are other bills in preparation to amend the bill as passed and the indications are strong that the lobbyists will have more work on hand than was first anticipated to make a sure shot of the fight.

The bill providing for the payment of taxes semi-annually, which passed at last session and was vetoed by Governor Jones and again passed the Assembly this session notwithstanding the Governor's veto, was defeated in the Senate to-day by a vote of 9 in favor of the bill to 6 against it. The bill having been vetoed by the late Governor required a two-thirds majority to pass it over his veto and lacked one vote. It is probable now that the measure will be introduced in the Senate as a new bill.

In accordance with a previous act of the legislature a bill was introduced to-day appropriating $5,515.95 to the Veterans' Home at Yountville, Cal., for the benefit of the old soldiers sent from this State.

In the Assembly the bill providing for the preservation of game in the counties of Elko, Lander, Humboldt and Eureka and making the close season from the 1st day of March to the 1st day of July, also creating the office of Road Inspector of Elko county and providing for such officers in other counties in the State, were passed and transmitted to the Senate.

Found Guilty of Petit Larceny.

J. H. Reinhardt, who was arrested Monday morning on a charge of coining and freeing onto his neighbors goods, had a hearing yesterday afternoon.

He told Judge Lynn a long story regarding the matter, trying to show that it was through pure friendship that he became possessed of the property in question; that he took the tools home and hid them to prevent some one—he didn't say whom—from stealing them.

Disinterested affection is a real nice thing at times, but it seemed so out of place in this instance, that his Honor, after listening to the evidence adduced by the prosecution, found him guilty, and he will receive sentence at 9 o'clock this morning.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an ideal panacea for coughs, colds and lung complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physicians' prescriptions or other preparations."

Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 50 years or more, and have never found any thing so beneficial, or that gave such a speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this Ideal Cough Remedy now. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Business Transacted Yesterday by the Commissioners Sitting as a Town Board.

The Board of County Commissioners met yesterday for the purpose of transacting the business of the town of Reno. Present, a full Board, with District Attorney Julien and County Clerk Porter.

Among the final duties performed was the consideration of the complaints of our citizens in relation to the matter of street lights. The Chairman of the Board caused Mr. Bechtel of the Reno Water, Land & Light Company to be present.

Mr. Bechtel was questioned at considerable length regarding the usual monthly bills presented for lighting the streets of Reno under a contract or agreement, made some three years ago. It was made apparent by the discussion that the Electric Light Company has been charging regularly the sum of $12 per lamp for eighteen lamps, whether they burned or not.

The Board insisted that the Light Company should show affirmatively that the lights burned during the hours between dark and 12:30 o'clock. On the other hand it was insisted by the representative of the Light Company that unless it could be shown that the lights did not burn every night as per contract that the company should be paid. This assumption on the part of the Electric Light Company was promptly "set down" as the saying is.

The claim showed, by careful examination of the arc lights, that during the last ten days of January five of the lights south of Commercial Row were "silent" or not burning on certain nights when most needed.

The result of the matter was that the Board made a deduction of $4.40 on the bill presented, and then authorized the Chairman as a committee of one to investigate the matter of how much light the company really furnished the people of Reno in consideration of the usual amount monthly claimed by the company and paid by our citizens.

Sundry and various claims against the town were examined and allowed or rejected according to their merits.

The Board then adjourned until the first Tuesday in March next.

A CUTTING AFFRAY.

James Gallagher Uses His Little Knife on John Matthews.

Last Monday evening James Gallagher, to emphasize the fact that he was "all right" tried his pruning knife on the person of John Matthews, and after his operation in amateur phlebotomy was completed to his apparent satisfaction he hid himself into the outer darkness and has not been seen around these parts. The affair happened so quickly that the bystanders hardly realized the fact that there had been a row until it was all over and Gallagher had disappeared. Matthews, who is known throughout the community as a quiet, good natured man, was as much astonished at the assault as the spectators of the affray, and is at a loss to know why he was singled out.

Gallagher evidently meant business and had he struck harder the results would undoubtedly have been very serious. As it was Matthews received an ugly slash across the left cheek and nose, while the clothing on his right shoulder and arm received liberal attention, being out in good carpet-tug style.

The weapon used is an ugly looking affair, ground to almost the sharpness of a razor. It was left by Gallagher as a souvenir of the occasion.

Officer McNelly traced Gallagher to Verdi, where he had stopped for breakfast yesterday morning, and had continued his journey west at an unreasonable early hour. Word has been sent up the road and the officers along the line are keeping an eye open.

Poisoning From Honey.

The old saying that every sweet has its bitter might be accentuated by the statement that honey sometimes contains the most active and dangerous poison. A case in point is related in a medical review as follows: A man and his wife ate honey. They took but a little, as they observed a burning sensation of the mouth and throat as soon as the honey was swallowed. Within a few minutes each were taken ill. There was nausea, severe pain and vomiting,

then a loss of consciousness, coldness of the extremities, feeble action of the heart and collapse. No pulse could be detected. The wife remained insensible for several hours, but the husband was not entirely restored until the following day. Even then strength returned very slowly, and there was every indication of extreme exhaustion. A portion of the honey was given to two cats; to one a small dose and to the other a large dose was administered.

The small cat produced partial exhaustion, relaxation of the voluntary muscles and general depression. The large cat took effect almost immediately, producing relaxation, vomiting,

pain, prostration and almost complete loss of control over the voluntary muscles. The cat did not regain its normal condition for 24 hours.

A fairly thorough examination of the honey was made in order, if possible, to discover the nature of the poison. An element. No positive conclusion was arrived at, but the chemists were reasonably satisfied that the rhododendron

and a few other plants of that class contains the objectionable substance. It was also stated that plants belonging to the heath family have been by botanists looked upon with apprehension, for the reason that they have been suspect-</
